

Tito, Red Chiefs Plan Statement

To Tell Relationship Between Countries

MOSCOW (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito and Russia's top leaders scheduled another Kremlin meeting today to add final touches to a joint communique outlining the new relationship between the Communist parties of their countries.

Tito indicated to reporters at a Yugoslav reception that the communique to be released tonight, would make no provision for any formal Cominform-like grouping of the Soviet and Yugoslav parties.

"We are pretty much in agreement, not on the framework of a general organization, but on the basis of bilateral cooperation," he said.

He told the newsmen not to expect anything sensational from the announced getting together of the Yugoslav and Soviet Communist parties. He said the basis of the agreement would be on the same level as relations between the two countries, a relationship he has been careful to describe as one of consultation and cooperation between two independent equals.

Tito also said again there would be no change in Yugoslavia's relations with the West as a result of his talks here.

Tito also said he has not made any arrangements for military cooperation with the Soviet Union during his trip, and that no agreement had been reached on a future economic program between the two countries.

Among the guests at the Yugoslav party was U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, who had this comment after Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov had proposed a toast to peace:

"I'll be glad to drink a toast to peace for after all, who would toast to war? But if peace is to be maintained, one must establish a basis for peace, and that is justice."

Tito came up at that moment and asked, "Are you suggesting someone here is against justice?"

"I'm not suggesting anything," Bohlen replied. "I am only saying justice is necessary to peace."

Underground Member Reunited With Flier

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—A smiling, dark-haired member of the World War II underground in Holland is realizing a 12-year dream—a reunion with one of the American fliers she sheltered from the Nazi invaders in her homeland.

She is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richardson in the little rural farm community of Malaga.

When Richardson parachuted into the Netherlands from a crippled B17 bomber 12 years ago, Nell Bolleman, then 28, hid him for five months in the big house where she lived with her mother and a servant in Drachten.

In all she helped 21 Allied airmen. She received a special citation from President Eisenhower "for gallant service."

Of all the fliers she helped, she says she has corresponded only with two in the intervening years—Richardson and Carl Spicer of Spencerville, Ohio. She has plans to visit only with the Richardsons on her present three-week visit to the United States.

Soil Bank To Include 8-15 Million Acres

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimated today that from 8 to 15 million acres of land normally planted to major surplus crops will be placed under the new soil bank program this year.

For taking the land out of production the farmers will get payments ranging from $4 to $366 an acre under the program, which is designed to eliminate surpluses of cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts, rice and tobacco.

The soil bank program, which was authorized by a new farm measure enacted late last month, offers up to $120,000 a year through 1959 for reducing plantings of surplus crops and for applying conservation practices to idled acres.

Quarry Slide Kills Three In New Jersey

RIVERDALE, N.J. (AP)—Nearly 50 rescuers worked today clearing rock and rubble in an effort to reach the bodies of two of three men buried by a quarry slide.

The men, workers at the Pompton Crushed Stone Co., were covered by granite boulders some weighing as much as 40 tons, when one side of the quarry gave way Monday.

The body of one victim—Wallace Van Orden Jr., 29, of Bloomington—was recovered late Monday night. He was crushed in the truck he was driving at the time of the mishap and rescuers had to cut away the cab of the vehicle to get at him.

Still missing were Charles Baldwin, 40, of Cedar Grove, and Grant Harris, 56, of Pompton Lakes.

Prospective members will be guests at the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Thursday evening at 6:30 in the Lape Hotel.

Following the dinner a general business meeting will be held. The Jaycees will install new officers at an installation dinner June 28 at the Valley Golf Club in Columbiana.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Five Dayton teenagers who were all set for a big Fourth of July celebration were in custody here today.

And Montgomery County sheriff's deputies have recovered 11 of 12 fireworks bombs—each said to be powerful enough to blow up the average house—reported stolen Saturday night from the United Fireworks Manufacturing Co.

Deputy B. E. Baker said the youths told him they took the bombs and a quantity of other fireworks to celebrate the Fourth.

But when they read newspaper accounts of how powerful the bombs were, Baker said the boys told him they started to dump them along a fence by the fireworks company plant.

300 Farmers Reorganize Dairy Assn.

HARTVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Some 300 dairy farmers from 16 Northeastern Ohio communities met in the high school of this Stark County village Monday night to reorganize the Ohio Dairyman's Bargaining Assn.

The ODBA was loosely organized earlier this year to spearhead an effort to boost the price farmers received for fluid milk. Federal action brought price increases to farmers while the group still was seeking to win recognition from milk handlers as a bargaining agent.

Joseph Brown of Jefferson, Ashtabula County, who has been the leader of the ODBA, was elected president Monday night.

Other counties represented included Holmes, Summit, Medina, Huron, Lake, Columbiana, Geauga, Mahoning, Trumbull, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Stark, Wayne and Portage.

Paul M. Perkins of Canton, lawyer for the ODBA, said organizational meetings would be held in about 25 northeastern Ohio counties.

Second Thought

Voters and non-voters who have thought it might be a good idea to restrain angry political candidates who threaten to bite somebody have Sen. Kefauver's word for it that their idea is sound.

For the first time since the late Wendell Willkie admitted that his tongue had run away with his judgment in the presidential campaign of 1940, a major public figure has second-guessed himself on electioneering tactics.

Sen. Kefauver admits he lost his head in the Florida and California primary campaigns against Adlai Stevenson. "In the heat of the campaign," he explained, "you sometimes say things you wouldn't say if you thought them over."

Newspaper files are full of campaign statements that wouldn't have been said on second thought. Some of them got into the history books, such as the one about "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" in 1894, which helped Grover Cleveland beat James G. Blaine.

There never has been a presidential candidate, winner or loser, who would not have liked to take back something said in haste or anger. For obvious reasons, there never will be a commission to give campaign statements the benefit of second thought before they are made. But if a few more campaigners recant, there may be fewer words spoken by campaigners without thought of the consequences.

Open To Question

When the Russians stabilize anti-Stalinism inside Russia, the question about what happens to Stalinists outside Russia will remain.

What happens to Communists in the United States who slavishly followed Stalin in what the Communists inside Russia now say was a denial of Marxism?

Unlike the Russian Communists who explain they were afraid to stand up against a despot who could kill them, American Communists were enjoying the protection of an enlightened government while supporting Stalin.

What excuse did they have for swallowing lock, stock and barrel a party line which they knew was a "deviation" from Marxism, if not a complete denial?

From an American point of view, they had no excuse. They were what most Americans said they were — people who hated the United States so much they would do anything to destroy it.

The much-talked-about "ideological" struggle was not that at all. It was a conspiracy to overthrow the United States by any possible means. The renunciation of Stalinism by the newest masters of the Communist conspiracy has left the Stalinists outside Russia without a leg to stand on. They were not ideologists; they were enemies of the United States. They still are.

The difference is now that they are no longer friends of Russia, having been discredited as thoroughly by the Kremlin as by the government they tried to destroy in the name of Stalinism.

Who's Neutral

When President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles threw diplomats into a tizzy by getting their signals mixed on neutrality, there was a strange silence about a lesson learned twice by the United States.

Before World War I and World War II, this country bent over backward to stay out of war. It called its back-breaking effort "neutrality," though it was really nonintervention. The United States believed it could avoid war by staying on good terms with both sides while war was developing.

It was wrong both times. It learned twice that nonintervention encouraged an aggressive Germany to go to war in the belief the United States would not take sides.

But there was no neutrality. The United States did not feel neutral.

Today, there is no talk about nonintervention. The theory that this country can stay out of war by not taking sides has been abandoned. If a third World War happened, the aggressor would have no illusions about the United States. It would be involved.

When Secretary of State Dulles called neutrality "an obsolete and an immoral and shortsighted conception," he was stating modern U.S. policy. When President Eisenhower said history justified neutrality, he was stating something no longer true of his own country, even though small countries may cling to the theory that they can stay out of war by staring out of alliances with countries that may get into war.

Ghoulish Skepticism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Doctors' Report On President Above Politics

Did the doctors attending President Eisenhower at his recent operation deliberately engage in a "propaganda for the Republicans" in commenting on the President's illness?

Lawrence politicians and their stooges in this country.

Fortunately, there is a stenographic record available which tells exactly what the doctors were asked and what they answered. A careful study of it will reveal that there has been a misrepresentation and a distortion of fact.

The physicians who attended the President didn't bring up the subject of whether or not he might run again. They didn't initiate any propaganda. They didn't ask for the press conference. The newspapermen covering the story did.

HERE IS the only question on this aspect which was asked of Dr. Heaton, who performed the operation and spoke for the group of doctors assembled:

"On the 14 of February, during the winding up of the coronary, you might say, a panel of doctors who had been treating him for his heart trouble said they saw no reason that he should not run for reelection medically. I would like to ask him (Dr. Heaton) and Dr. Ravdin, having treated him, do you see any reason, based on this, why he can't run for reelection?"

"Dr. Heaton: I certainly do not."

That's literally all that was said about it in the course of a lengthy conference with the press which covered several thousands of words entirely on other phases of the President's illness. Yet many headlines and news articles indicated that the President's attending physicians went out of their way to instigate a discussion of a political nature and that they, indeed, passed judgment on whether or not he ought to run.

ACTUALLY the only question asked was confined to the medical aspects. It was solely an inquiry as to whether the kind of illness the President encountered was in itself a deterrent factor to the acceptance of a second nomination. Plainly the doctors were not asked to answer whether it was wise for the President to take a chance or whether the strain of the job might be dangerous to him or to resolve any of the collateral issues which Mr. Eisenhower alone can decide.

The one question asked of the doctors, in effect, was whether this type of illness incapacitated any man from further service in his occupation. If the doctors had said they couldn't answer the question at all, it would have implied a gravity which the physicians didn't feel was justified. So they replied as hundreds of other physicians would have answered if the same question had been asked immediately after a surgical operation on anybody else with the same illness.

The truth is that medical data cited by doctors most skilled in handling this type of illness in thousands of cases show that the vast majority of patients have no unfavorable after-effects and the illness is not in itself related at all to the heart condition of a patient.

TWO MEDICAL STUDIES made for the benefit of the American Heart Association and just announced at Boston show that surgery for other ailments is not dangerous for heart patients. Out of 5,778 patients surveyed at the Ne England Center Hospital it was found that only eight-tenths of one per cent died of cardiac trouble while undergoing surgery and that the use of anesthetics was really no more damaging for heart patients than for those with no previous heart trouble.

It is significant to note the expression of confidence and faith in the President's physicians which came last Friday from Dr. David Allman, president-elect of the American Medical Association. He said at Chicago, when asked about it by the press, that he saw "no medical reason" why President Eisenhower shouldn't run for reelection. He added pointedly that he based his comment on what the attending physicians—the best in their field—had reported.

Actually, the most interested man in the country in all this is the President himself. A few weeks ago at a press conference, when newspapermen told him that the Democrats were suggesting that a different panel of doctors be appointed to examine him to see if he had really recovered from his heart attack, the President replied that if there was anything wrong with him, he more than anybody else wanted to know it.

HONESTY IS ONE of the principal traits of Mr. Eisenhower's character and if the doctors who attended him have been political in their reports and have forgotten their ethics as medical men, the President would be the first to insist on knowing why he was being misled. Merely to state the problem is to reveal its absurdity. It is difficult, therefore, to explain the ghoulish skepticism which some of the leading British newspapers and certain politicians in America seem to have generated about the integrity of the very fine medical men who attended the President.

Roses By Other Names

By TRUMAN TWILL

So what's in a name, because a rose by any other name would smell as sweet?

But if the rose were called a scabiosa, who would "gather ye scabiosa, while ye may"—and who would go to the florists to buy a dozen scabiosa "for remembrance?" There's a lot in a name.

Most of us would be open to suggestions for a change. If the beautiful people in show business can change theirs to Rosie La Rosa from Abigail Klunk, to make a better impression on the impressionable public, why not all of us whose names give a wrong impression?

Like Truman Twill, for example. People see a name like that in print, or they hear it spoken, and right away they evoke an image of a former president of the United States. This may be good or bad, depending on their politics. But it has nothing to do with the bearer of the name "Truman Twill."

All they get out of the Twill half of the name is the fact it fits with Truman. This impression is so strong that some of them are carried away by the euphony and pronounce it "Truman Trill."

The combination of the two names does not begin to suggest what their long-suffering bearer is really like. Instead of envisioning an attractive fellow about seven feet tall, with curly hair, a florid outdoorsy complexion, muscles like a professional football player, a sense of humor like all get-out and a folksy make-up, they envision a wizened old sourball with a dyspeptic point of view and with a heart that beats as one with a politician namesake who was a controversialist, to say the least.

This column could be written with more dash and ginger under the name of Timothy Strongheart, to pick a name at random.

Bud Jones would be an improvement over Truman Twill.

There is something to be said for Chad Sunrise, or for Rock Sunset—anything to give that feeling of space and virility which the public likes.

There are a thousand names which would be better than the one that is supposed to be just as good as any other. Hal Macklin, Steve Rooney, Denny Dale, Hy Herbert, Dan Silver, Alfred Donch, Nicholas Prettyman, Sam Kelly, Pat Mallon — you could make a stab in the telephone directory and come up with an improvement in five tries.

But, instead, the rose has been called a scabiosa, and the world remains unaware of its spine-tling fragrance and built-in beauty.

Some years ago there was a fellow named Billy Rose, no less, who wrote a newspaper column for a brief time before giving it up. Rose was an overnight success. Whether or not his name really was Rose isn't important; that was the monicker he went by — and not a wisp of his columnar fragrance ever was wasted on the desert air.

You're Just As Young As You Feel

Dizzy Diplomacy

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Everybody comes up with ideas and there can be no objection to that if the ideas are of value.

Thomas J. Watson of the International Business Machines Corporation put signs all over his factories and offices containing the single word, "Think." His employees were supposed to think, but what about? Were they to think about business machines, world problems, or the evil of taxes?

It would truly be wonderful if everybody had a mind like Aristotle's and could think out all sorts of problems, but even Aristotle got twisted when he tried to think in the biologic sciences about which he was more mythological than scientific. On the other hand, Einstein thought brilliantly in the natural sciences, but was a dud in the realm of politics and the American Constitution.

WHEN SOMEONE comes up with the idea of a people-to-people diplomacy and brings everything down to the simplicities of Li'l Abner Yokum of Dogpatch, U.S.A., the prospect of confusion becomes increasingly great. Obviously thought can only be generated by knowledge and most of us know very little about the facts of life which makes others seem to be so queer.

Why, for instance, are so many Italians Communists? And that bothers many Americans, some of whom thought that the best way to solve the problem would be to load Italy down with financial and military aid; then all Italians would be grateful to the United States and they would forthwith become capitalists.

In all this "thinking" about Italy, such thinkers forget that there was socialism objectionable to Italians there could never have been a Mussolini, who was a Socialist.

cialist, the associate for many years of Angelica Balabanov.

THEY HAVE CALLED Mussolini a Fascist so long that they have forgotten that Fascism like Nazism was an offshoot of Hegelianism plus Marxism, and that the Italian people welcomed Mussolini's brand and lived under it for 21 years until Italy was defeated in war by American troops and then Mussolini was murdered.

It is probably correct to say that Mussolini was not murdered for having wrong ideas but for being defeated. The worst that can happen to a politician is to be defeated.

So, the thinkers worry about France and wonder why the French people seem not to give a tinker's damn about what happens to their country for which the Americans fought and bled in two wars.

The idea again was to pour hundreds of millions of dollars into France, to make France the capital of NATO, and to make up in American aid what the French people default in taxes. And then the French would all be pro-American. We now grow very agry with the French because they take our money but go awry in their own way just the same. They have no sense of gratitude.

WHAT WE SEEM to forget is that France has more or less been at war since 1789; that Napoleon built an empire on the bodies of dead Frenchmen; that Germany invaded France and occupied all or large parts of France in 1870 1914 and 1940; that France is now a battlefield between Soviet Russia and the United States and must, by any logic, be destroyed—physically destroyed—in the next war. The French do not care at all for what they see ahead of them. Also, the French had built a nest-egg for themselves in Morocco and Algeria and that just as the French were let down in French Indochina by their allies and associates, so they are now being let down by Great Britain and the United States in their North African problems because "colonialism" has become unpopular in the democratic countries.

SO THE AVERAGE Frenchman says that he hates war and taxes and all he wants is to be left to his own devices and that he can eat bread and cheese and drink wine under one faker as under another, meaning his own politicians.

No Li'l Abner diplomacy, no pen friendships, no people-to-people propaganda will make very much difference as long as the prospect for the future is war and taxes. The Frenchman says that he will be dead and buried before the politicians stop stealing and before peace comes to mankind. Therefore he wants to live while he is alive. It is an idea.

Farmers Cross Fingers

By SAM DAWSON

DES MOINES (Ia)—"I'll lose money on the 80 cattle I'm fattening here in the lot. But maybe I'll make it back and more on the 45 on pasture across the road that I'll start feeding in here when these go to market."

Frank (Pete) Owen, who has a 238 acre "family farm" at Elkhart, Iowa, 20 miles north of here, is one of many Iowa farmers who aren't hurting too bad now — although there are many less fortunate.

But Pete's skeptical about the recent turn for the better in farm prices.

"We'll be right back where we were by fall," he says. "This price rise won't last — there's just too much livestock in the United States for that."

Merchants, bankers, farm organization officials here have their fingers crossed, too.

"The farmers have been hurt alright," says W. J. Goodwin, chairman of the Central National Bank and Trust. "But lots of them have had reserves to fall back on. Some who came in after the war and bought a lot of machinery of time have been hurt bad."

His son, Robert K. Goodwin, vice chairman of the bank, adds: "It will take time for Iowa farmers to get over the bad backset of last winter and this spring. But it looks now as if they will make it — if they get the rains and a good crop this year."

The farmer's plight has been the worst in southwestern Iowa where a long drought has caused many to haul water for 50 miles or more for their stock. But most of them haven't thrown in the towel. "The drought counties are resisting being called distress areas," Newton P. Black, the state banking commissioner, points out. "Out here we prefer to work out of our troubles our own way."

Farmers are feeling better already in the opinion of Kenneth C. Thatcher, secretary of the State Farm Bureau Federation.

"Better hog prices and recent good rains make them think they may be over the worst," he says. "But they're still cautious. I don't think they're going to rush in to buy again, either at machinery dealers or the department stores—at least not until they see if the price turn is real or just a temporary relief, and see how the crop comes out."

Pete Owen is one of the many Iowa farmers who had reserves to fall back on when the going got rough. He even had enough to give Mrs. Owen her dearest wish, an entirely remodelled kitchen, with equipment that would make most city folk green with envy.

Owen's 238 acres is now considered about the right size for a "family farm," but he rents 80 acres more down the road and says he could use even more to keep all his equipment busy.

With the aid of his hired hand and his 12-year-old son, Ronnie, "who can run a tractor as good as the hired man and I can," Pete finds use for two big tractors and a small one on his crops of corn, soy beans and oats. He also buys corn to feed the cattle and hogs he fattens for market.

Lauds Sesqui Observance

To The News: I hope I can speak for thousands of Salem citizens in commending the sesquicentennial committee and co-workers for a job well — done in carrying out last week's celebration.

They have convinced us, without a doubt, that Salem has been, is, and will continue to be a wonderful place in which to live.

The parades were wonderful, the crowds well-behaved, and all of the exhibits attractive. The pageant was impressive and even the weather was ideal. All in all we had a grand celebration.

Father and Son Dialogue

"Popper, what is a sensitive position?"
"In running this household, Junior, I think I am in a sensitive position, but since that Supreme Court decision last week I am not sure. It could be that I am just a handyman around the house and can't be held responsible for events."

"No fooling, Popper. I've got to write a paper for school."

"Well, I guess a sensitive position is what the wolf had inside grandma's cottage. A non sensitive position was what it would be called now, since he really worked in the woods a few feet away."

"What would be done with the wolf today?"
"He would be ruled to have been in a nonsensitive position when he ate grandma up, and thus not liable. I rather imagine the hunters who shot him would be given the works and that the wolf, if he survived, would have been reinstated with back pay. The courts might even have to throw in Little Red Riding Hood."

"You mean distance is everything?"
asked Junior.

"Yes, my boy. As I read it a man can be three feet outside a door of a sensitive government bureau and still be a nonsensitive operator, even at the keyhole or with hearing aids."

"The high court said, six-to-three, that Uncle Sam can't drop a government worker believed to be nonloyal if he is in nonsensitive territory, didn't it, Dad?"

"Congress passed a law naming eleven departments as sensitive, and empowering the President to add other agencies if he thought it necessary to preserve America. The court held he exceeded his power in so doing."

"Didn't the dissenting justices say the decision struck down the government's most effective weapon against betrayal by possible spies, Popper?"

"Yes, Sonny Boy. And they said it imperiled the country to make the treatment of suspected disloyal workers a matter of safety zones."

"Ain't it sort of queer, Dad, to think that any man drawing pay for working for his country can give anything less than complete and unswerving loyalty to Uncle Sam, regardless of whether he holds a job, big, small or medium?"

"It has always been my notion, son, that any man employed by the U. S. A. should give complete loyalty to it and could be fired for less, no matter whether he was a beehive inspector for a minor bureau, a vegetable seed distributor in another or a top clerk in the State Department. I had an idea even a janitor in the building handling water fowl preservation had to be like Caesar's wife."

"How would Caesar's wife make out under this decision, Popper?"

"If Julius found love letters to her which she got at the post office general delivery window it would be ruled a nonsensitive zone and she would be safe. In order to be false to him she would have to get the letters in the home, which is classified as a sensitive zone. Now run out and play with the other kids."

The altar was decorated with ferns, white gladioli and white carnations, and lighted with four seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Robert Cline, organist, and Mrs. J. O. Hinerman, soloist, presented a half hour of nuptial music

The bride was lovely in a waltz length gown of white organdy embroidered with blue flowers. The dress was made with brief sleeves and sabrina neckline, having a fitted bodice and finished with scalloped bouffant skirt. A shoulder-length veil fell from a matching cloche.

Atop a white Bible she carried a bride's bouquet of delicate pink sweetheart roses from which flowed white satin streamers. The bride also carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother.

instruction will be given by Pridon and basketball classes will be taught by Pridon, Fenton and Lewis.

Movies will be offered each Wednesday evening after dark at the Centennial Park ball field. Films which will be shown tomorrow night are: Walt Disney's "Nature's Half Acre," "The Big Vacation," and three cartoons.

Boys interested in joining a summer outdoor basketball league may now register at the Centennial pool. Plans are being made for inter-club playground leagues in basketball, softball, and other games for boys and girls.

Girls interested in synchronized swimming instruction may now register at the pool. The instruction will begin next Tuesday.

Advanced synchronized swimming classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11:30 a.m. to noon. Beginners classes will be held on Wednesdays from 11:30 to noon.

Free swimming instruction periods, Mondays through Fridays, will be held at the pool through the cooperation of the Red Cross and the Park and Recreation Department. Classes will start Monday with intermediate instruction from 9 to 9:45 a.m. and beginners from 10 to 10:45 a.m. Advance classes will begin later in the season.

Adult swimming instruction will be held evenings as soon as enough persons register for a class. Burton encouraged entire family participation on family nights, which will be held every Wednesday evening from 8 p.m. until the free movies. Free dances will also be held this summer on the basketball court at Centennial Park.

Burton said qualified Red Cross swimming instructors and water safety aid personnel are still needed to aid in instruction at the pool. They may sign up at the Red Cross office in the Memorial Building.

All swimming classes will be taught according to Red Cross standards and Red Cross cards will be issued to all students who complete the classes. First aid equipment for the swimming pool was donated by the Red Cross.

Burton stated that any parents who can aid in providing transportation for the free swim periods or will serve on an adult advisory committee for the summer program, should also register at the playgrounds with their children.

Much of the program was made possible through the cooperation of the city school system by offering building and playground space for the activities, Burton added.

Leary, 49, a Frankfort attorney, to the U.S. Senate seat vacated by the death of Sen. Alben Barkley.

Leary was named to serve until a successor to Barkley is elected in November. The term has four years to run. The Democratic State Central Committee was to select today its nominee to run in November.

On the Democratic presidential scene, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York got a boost from Frank E. McKinney, former Democratic national chairman.

McKinney predicted in Indianapolis that Harriman would be the Democratic nominee for president at the August convention in Chicago.

In Chicago, an Associated Press poll of Illinois Democratic delegates to the convention showed Adlai Stevenson is the No. 1 choice among delegates who took part in the poll. Of the 78 polled, 37 delegates participated. Sen. Symington of Missouri had the most second-choice support.

Maine Republicans in a primary election picked Willis A. Trafton Jr., speaker of the Maine House, to oppose Gov. Edmund S. Muskie in the early September election.

ference he would ask the President's doctors about the possibility.

Hagerty declined to make the doctors themselves available to newsmen. And he voiced sharp resentment at a suggestion that questions addressed to the physicians might prove embarrassing to the White House.

"I resent that very much," he declared, adding he has been doing and will continue to do the best job he can to give the public the honest facts about the President's condition.

The exchange between Hagerty and several reporters had as its background the question, still unanswered, whether Eisenhower will reconsider his decision to seek a second term in view of his second illness in nine months.

a barter deal arranged by Shepilov last year.

The Soviet minister's statement of selfless friendship for the Arab world was made during a visit to the model Nile village of Bernesht, where Premier Gamel Abdel Nasser's government is testing social improvements.

"We undoubtedly want to improve our relations and establish friendship with all other states in the world," Shepilov said, "among them the United States, France, Britain, Greece, Turkey and with all our neighbors."

"We have undertaken corresponding measures in this direction and we shall continue also to strive for it in the future by all means. It is well understood that improvement of relations of the Soviet union with Western states does not go on and cannot go on at the expense of our good relations with the Arab countries, with our friends in the East."

After hinting at forthcoming economic aid, Shepilov declared, "We have enough of our own wealth and we want to live on our own experience. Therefore, the Arab countries may rely upon the Soviet Union as an unselfish faithful and reliable friend."

"At the same time, the Soviet Union does not intend to promote agitation or enmity of Arab countries to any of the Western powers."

Shepilov followed with another of the Soviet blasts at colonialism certain to find willing ears in Africa and Asia.

Pinball Machines May Stay In East Liverpool

EAST LIVERPOOL — Pinball machines may be allowed to remain in East Liverpool, but only if the operators remove the "free game" feature that makes them gambling devices in the eyes of the Ohio Supreme Court, council was told Monday night.

Safety-service director William Heasley said the main factor in permitting the machines to remain as amusement devices is the revenue they provide for the financially hard-pressed city. The fees in 1956 will total approximately $6,000.

In a ruling given Friday to police by Solicitor Joe Cooper, it was held that the free game machines are gambling devices.

TIMBER CASE TO OPEN

LISBON — A jury will be seated Tuesday to hear the case of Robert Gregory and Dorothy Gregory, East Palestine RD 1, against Kenneth E. Bell, Columbiana RD 2, for $4,500 damages claimed due on a contract to cut timber. The plaintiffs claim the defendant refused to remove boughs, bark and Soviet union with Western states

'It Looks Pretty Good To Me'---

As the great grain harvest begins to sweep across the nation, farmer C. H. Dent, right, examines wheat on his 187 acres west of Salina, Kan. Combines, below, begin to gather in the golden horde as they sweep the fields near Wichita, Kan. Although Agriculture Department pre-harvest estimates forecast a 923-million-bushel wheat yield, about two per cent off last year's 938 million bushels, experts underscore the fact that good weather from now to the end of the harvest might well change the yield picture. Reason it's down this year is because of cool growing weather and long-standing drought conditions in some areas. Short harvest of the major grains could well be a blessing in disguise in that it would help relieve crop surplus problems which figure importantly in the nation's overall farm economy.

We salute the many dairy farmers of the area, for their contribution to the health of the community and to the economy of the area.

For 110 years, Salem's Oldest Bank has been privileged to work with the progressive farmers of this district. We value their business and their good will, and the opportunity of Dairy Month to express our appreciation.

Learned From The Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a Columbian might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That in some European countries a bride by law must pass a cooking test before she can get married.

That it was Mark Twain who said, "It usually takes me three weeks to prepare a good impromptu speech."

That one chain of supermarkets, featuring Beethoven as well as beans, is now selling long-playing classical records at 99 cents each. Rock'n'roll selections are available at the same price.

That if you forget to give Dad a gift on Father's Day, you can still surprise him with a complete skin-diving set for a paltry $4.00. It includes a waterproof camera, rubber suit, floating knife and other necessities of underseas travel.

That there is now available a hearing aid weighing less than an ounce which men can wear as tie clasp or lapel pin and women as a brooch or necklace pendant.

That a timber expert estimates porcupines are causing more damage than fires to the forests of southern Oregon.

That California mill workers recently found in the heart of a redwood tree a hoard of acorns deposited there by a squirrel sometime before Christopher Columbus discovered America.

That some of the old-time pirates made Boston's Brink's case bandits look almost like petty thieves. After one expedition against Spanish ships, Francis Drake presented Queen Elizabeth I of England with looted treasure valued at more than five million dollars.

That Samuel Goldwyn, the famous producer, was born Samuel Goldfish.

That in 1915 Goldwyn started the movie world by paying operatic idol Geraldine Farrar the unheard-of sum of $20,000 to make three silent movies in eight weeks. Last week pianist Victor Borge got $100,000 for a single hour on television—but at least you could hear him.

That before 1906 the only cosmetics used by most "nice ladies" in America were a little rice powder and a touch of cold cream. Rouge and lipstick were practically unknown.

That among the toiletries popular with women at the turn of the century were such genteel items as headache cologne, crushed violet smelling salts and wood violet tooth wash.

That America has 320,000 blind people.

That Phi Beta Kappa, the national academic honor society, was organized in—of all places—a tavern in Williamsburg, Va., in 1776. Later the tavern became a girls' seminary.

That the hobby of Robert Weede,

Says Missile Program Moves Ahead Swiftly

CLEVELAND (AP)—The man who guides the guided missile program of the Defense Department said here Monday night that the missile program has not suffered from lack of funds or administrative red tape.

Eger V. Murphree, appointed in April as special assistant for guided missiles in the Department of Defense, told the American Rocket Society, "The time it takes to solve technical and engineering problems" was the program's only limitation and that "rapid progress" is being made in developing intercontinental and intermediate range missiles.

The Navy already is operating a missile that can be launched from a bomber against targets far beyond the aircraft's range, Murphree said, and the Air Force soon will have a similar weapon.

The Navy's Petrel and the Air Force's Rascal, the missile chief said, "will permit a bomber to deliver highly effective payloads without the necessity of the bombers penetrating defense surrounding the target."

Murphree's assurance that neither money nor red tape were affecting the missile program had

Garner Still Goes On Hunt Despite Weak Eyes

DALLAS (AP)—Former Vice President John Nance Garner isn't going to miss out on any hunting trips even if his shooting eye isn't as good as it used to be.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer, paying a recent visit to the 87-year-old Garner at Uvalde, said he asked:

"Do you still go hunting like you used to, Mr. Garner?"

"No, I still go along on the hunt, but I let the other fellows do the hunting," Garner told him. "Son, I can't see much farther than from here to you."

"I let the other boys do the hunting. I just drive the truck."

Iron Ore Being Shipped In Near Record Volume

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore is moving down the Great Lakes at near record volume.

In the seven days ended Monday the Great Lakes ore fleet hauled 3,205,802 tons, it was reported by the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. That was the first time this season the shipments had hit three million tons a week.

For the 1956 shipping season shipments have totaled 25,867,540 tons.

Donald C. Potts, president of Pittsburgh Steamship Co., which operates the largest fleet of ore boats, said if there is no steel strike he hopes the 1956 ore movement can beat the figure of 87 million tons moved last year, which was the second highest in history. The record of 96 million tons was set in 1953.

Last year, in the corresponding week, the fleets hauled 2,925,205 tons for a season total of 22,523,241 tons.

Boy, 12, Admits Slaying Legislator's Daughter

SEATTLE (AP)—A 12-year-old boy, plucked by police from a picnic excursion bus, calmly confessed to police Sunday night the strangulation slaying of 4½-year-old Kathryn Ruoff, the daughter of State Rep. Richard Ruoff.

The little girl's violated body, a green and white play suit stuffed in the mouth, had been found only a few hours earlier under the floorboards of an old, unused garage near her home. She had been missing since Saturday.

Ray John Barker, one of several youngsters who used the garage as a clubhouse, was taken into custody by police as the excursion bus arrived back in town.

Cincinnati Wins, Regains First Place As Pirates Lose

Redlegs Down Phils In 10th

Milwaukee Defeats Pittsburgh 3-2

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Manager Birdie Tebbetts, who learned to handle pitchers as a catcher, has his Cincinnati Redlegs back in the National League lead by using an off-beat pattern that makes starters out of relievers and relievers out of starters.

Birdie got the job done Monday night in a 7-4, 10-inning decision over the Philadelphia Phillies. He yanked Hal Jeffcoat out of the bullpen for a starting job, followed with ace reliever Buster Freeman and then wound up with unbeaten starter Brooks Lawrence, who won his eighth.

It was the second time Tebbetts has used Jeffcoat, the ex-outfielder, as a starter. Both turn-arounds led to victories that pushed the Redlegs into first place. They moved back to the top Monday night as the Milwaukee Braves pushed the Pirates into second place, defeating them 3-2.

No other NL games were scheduled.

In the American, the New York Yankees retained their 5 1/2-game lead as Mickey Mantle sent his 25th home run rocketing out of Detroit's Briggs Stadium to beat the Tigers 7-4. Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City clipped Washington 4-3.

Jeffcoat's only other starting job this season was against the Phils June 7. He didn't last, but the Redlegs won it and took over first place. They gave up the top spot to the Pirates last Tuesday.

It looked as if they were going to get the lead back in a breeze Monday night, racing off to a 3-0 edge that included Ray Jablonski's 12th home run. But in the end, the homer-happy Redlegs had to beat the Phils on singles. They clipped loser Harvey Haddix for four in a three-run 10th. Roy McMillan's blooper over second drove in the tie-breaker.

The Pirates fell half a game behind as the Braves scored the winning run on Dick Groat's third-inning throwing error. Warren Spahn pitched a eight-hitter for his fifth victory. Jack Shepard's two-run homer was the only weak moment for Spahn.

The Braves, who have won three straight for Haney since he replaced Charlie Grimm Saturday night after a miserable 5-12 slump got all their runs off Ron Kline, starting after two days' rest. Joe Adcock drove in two runs with a first-inning double.

Mantle's two-on, eighth-inning blast broke a 4-all tie. He picked a 2-1 pitch by Paul Foytack directly into the wind and off the grandstand roof (110 feet above the ground) in right field. The poke went over the 370-foot sign.

Ted Williams, as a Boston rookie in 1939, is the only other man ever to put one out of Briggs Stadium.

Mantle's homer put him 12 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927 and handed Don Larsen his fourth victory after 6 1/2 innings of three-hit ball in relief of Bob Turley.

Jim Wilson won his ninth of the season and fifth since moving to the White Sox from Baltimore last month by checking his former mates on seven hits. The Sox scored twice in the second off Bill Wight with a pair of infield outs after loading the bases. The clincher came off Mike Fornieles in the seventh.

Kansas City junked a three-game losing string and escaped the cellar with two unearned runs in the first and two in the sixth to overhaul a 3-2 Senator lead.

Eljer Defeats Stepanics 9-2

The red hot Eljer Co. softball team extended their winning streak to 12 last night as they unleashed a 12 hit attack to stop Stepanics Tavern of the AA league 9-2.

Al Stoffer and Odorizzi, with three home runs between them, paced Eljer to the win from the batter's box. Ray Patterson took care of the pitching chores.

Sanors was the losing hurler.

Wally King tied the champ at 69. In the women's division Mrs. George Walker shot a 72 to better Fay Crocker's winning score of 80.

Trade Boosts Card Manager's Confidence

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—"If we had the lineup we have now at the start of the season, we'd be in front by four or five games."

Fred Hutchinson, manager of the revamped St. Louis Cardinals, made this statement—bold words for the usually reticent Hutch—on the eve of a big three-game series with the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers which starts tonight. The two clubs are tied for third, just one game from the top.

He was referring to last week's four-for-four trade which brought Al Dark and Whitey Lockman to the Redbirds from the New York Giants.

And he was mindful that St. Louis clubs in recent years have made a habit of going into a trance whenever they visit Ebbets Field.

Hutchinson will open the series with 39-year-old Murry Dickson. He will be opposed by lefthander Sandy Koufax, young enough at 20 to be Murry's son. Vinegar Bend Mizell, the team's biggest winner (7-3) will start the second game.

Dark, hitting a surprising .412, and Lockman, spraying hits at a .353 pace, are the main reasons for optimism the Cardinal manager shows.

But balancing this is the fact two regulars, Rip Repulski and Wally Moon, will miss the first game and possibly the series with injuries. Rip is hitting .378 and Moon .330, placing them in the league's first five.

Lane and his field manager are convinced, if many Cardinal fans aren't, that the trade strengthened their team. St. Louis gave up second baseman Red Schoendienst, outfielder Bill Sarni, pitcher Dick Littlefield for Dark, Lockman, catcher Ray Katt and lefty Don Liddle.

Draw Clinched Future Match For Szuzina

NEW YORK (AP)—A draw with favored Charley (King) Cotton was almost as good as a victory for Germany's Franz Szuzina.

"That clinched a July 10th date with Jesse Turner or some other middleweight in Milwaukee for Franz," said Manager Al Lang today.

The three officials came up with three different verdicts to provide the deadlock for the telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Referee Peter Scalzo voted for the German, 5-4-1. Judge Bill Recht scored it 7-3 for Cotton. Judge Joe Agnello had it exactly even, five rounds and five points for each. The AP card had it even, 4-4-2.

OLD GUARD—Mickey Vernon, left, of the Red Sox; the Kansas City Athletics' Country Slaughter, center; and Boston's Ted Williams demonstrate that baseball is not altogether a young man's game. Slaughter is 40. Vernon is 38 and Williams is crowding that age.

Mantle Blasted Longest Homer Despite Heckling From House

By DAVE DILES
DETROIT (AP)—Detroit catcher Frank House kept telling Mickey Mantle he'd never hit one out of the park with the strong wind blowing in. And the slugger is reminded constantly by Manager Casey Stengel and his coaches to quit swinging at bad balls.

If the New York Yankee strong boy had paid any attention at all, he would not have propelled a "bad ball" out of Briggs Stadium Monday.

Only one ball ever traveled out of the stadium before the 24-year-old center fielder ripped into one of Paul Foytack's fast balls and sent it into a 15-mile-an-hour wind and over the right center field stands.

Hit from the left side of the plate, the blast came with two men on base in the eighth inning and broke a 4-4 tie. The Yankees won 7-4.

In 1939, a rookie named Ted Williams cracked one over the stands down the line in right. Mantle's blast was much more impressive, and much longer.

House said Mantle hit "a fast ball a little inside and up around his shoulders."

"It wasn't a fit pitch to hit," he added.

House chattered at Mantle every time the Yankee slugger came to bat. Said House:

"I kept telling him, 'Mickey, you ain't gonna hit one out of here today; that wind coming in from right field is just too much for you.'"

House said Mantle "muttered something, but I never could tell what it was."

Mantle failed to get a ball out of the infield in his first three

Haney Gets Flying Start At Milwaukee

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Easy-going Fred Haney, who couldn't lift the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the National League cellar in three seasons, is off to a running start as manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

His team rang up their third straight victory Monday night—defeating the Pirates 3-2—since he took over the managerial reins.

Prior to Sunday's double-header win over the Dodgers, Milwaukee had lost 12 of its last 17 games.

Haney hooked on with the Braves as a coach this season after being fired as the Pirate manager last year. He wound up as Milwaukee's pilot with the resignation Saturday of Charlie Grimm.

"It feels just like old times being back in Pittsburgh," Haney said. Obviously, he was referring to the surroundings and not the troubles he experienced in 1953, 1954 and 1955 when the Pirates finished last under him.

He appeared confident of better things to come with the Braves. "It won't come easy," he said.

"Nothing does. This is a very rough league we're in with eight rough ball clubs. While I like the looks of the Braves and their chances to go all the way, I look for a struggle down to the wire."

Lopez Retains Faith In Tribe

Indians On Longest Streak Since 1952

CLEVELAND (AP)—Now 8 1/2 games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians tonight open a three-game series here trying to wrest third place from the Boston Red Sox.

The Tribe, with six losses and a tie in the last seven games, is on its longest losing streak since 1952, and only Manager Al Lopez holds much hope of overhauling the defending league champions.

"It's never hopeless," said Lopez. "When you have 99 games left, anything can happen. Why, you can make up eight games in a month, just as we did last year."

"We need a winning streak, and we're due for one."

It's true the Indians of 1955, by winning 19 against eight losses, gained eight full games on the Yanks between July 2 and July 30.

And others, besides Lopez would agree that this year's Tribe might be able to play .700 ball for a month. The trouble is that last year's Cleveland hot streak coincided with a month in which the Yanks played around .400 ball.

That was very unlike the New Yorkers, who have won 60 per cent or more of their league games every season since 1946.

The chance of another such month-long Yankee slump appears dim. Or, to put it another way if the Yankees play .600 ball the rest of the way, they will equal their last year's total of 96 won and 58 lost.

To beat them, Lopez' club would have to win seven out of 10 the rest of the way.

Against Boston's Ike Delock (2-4), the Indians will pitch Bob Lemon (7-4). Hoping to add more left-handed batting power, Lopez will start Hal Naragon behind the plate instead of Jim Hegan.

CARS ARE MY LINE
by Al Parker

As anyone can see, the station wagon is having a boom. In two years they've jumped from 5 percent of auto production to around 11 or 12, a popularity you can notice on any Sunday drive.

And they're not so new as all that, you know. The first car that looked like a station wagon was the 1923 Star. The station wagon is popular in Russia, too, where the wood-paneled Moskvitch totes four people around with its little four-cylinder engine.

The Moskvitch looks very much like American station wagons of the 1939-40 period, which isn't surprising since the Russians carried off the dies and jigs for it from an American-owned factory in East Germany.

The great attraction of the station wagon, of course, is that it fills the need to carry around the whole family and their summer-time equipment, stuff for the cottage, new plants for the garden or practically anything you can name.

One big advantage that the manufacturers never thought of is that the rear area makes a wonderful play pen for the kiddies. It's roomy and flat and keeps them (and their lollipops) off the upholstery and Grandma.

You don't have to worry about taking a great whacking loss in depreciation with a station wagon, the way you used to. They're popular, and therefore, depreciate at about the same rate as any car.

Buying a station wagon is buying a car to fit a particular need or yen. Any of our people will tell you all about them when you drop in.

They can show you the best values around here in snazzy new ones or economical used ones, too.

For example: Check this beautiful 1955 Studebaker V-8 Commander Wagon with automatic shift, radio, heater, etc. All leather interior, coral finish, off-set with white walls. It's like new. $1895.

Also an as is — 1951 Chevrolet 9-Pass. Wagon with very solid body, nice interior, radio, heater, etc. Brown finish. An exceptional buy at only $355.

Three Cardinals May Be In All-Star Lineup

NEW YORK (AP)—A triumvirate of St. Louis Cardinal sluggers is pacing the balloting for the 1956 All-Star baseball game at Washington July 10.

Stan Musial in right field, Rip Repulski in left and Ken Boyer at third have formed an unshakable trio as the poll enters its last four days. The Cards are the only team in either league with the possibility of placing three men in the starting lineup, picked by the fans.

Patterson's Injury Could Heal By Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight contender Floyd Patterson, who is hoping his injured right hand will heal fast enough so that he can fight Archie Moore for the heavyweight title in September, heard some encouraging news today.

The reassuring words came from Charley Goldman, the veteran trainer of retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Goldman told Patterson and Manager Gus D'Amato that Rocky had suffered an almost identical injury to his right hand early in his career and fought three months and one week later.

If the 21-year-old Patterson has the same good luck, he will be able to go through with the title fight with Moore in Yankee Stadium in late September.

Patterson broke the metacarpal bone of his fourth finger—the one next to the pinkie—in outpointing Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at the Garden June 8. The metacarpal is the bone behind the knuckle.

Doctors have differed as to how long it will take to heal. Floyd's hand is in a cast now.

Bannister Declares 3:50 Mile Possible

MONTREAL (AP)—Dr. Roger Bannister said today that the 3:50 mile is possible but will come gradually.

The English runner who first broke the four-minute barrier also said that England is concentrating on middle-distance runners for the 1956 Olympic Games and will crowd many field-event athletes off the English squad unless the field men meet stringent standards.

Bannister arrived with his wife by plane Monday. He will speak tonight at a dinner marking the 75th anniversary of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Assn. Receipts in connection with the dinner will go to the Canadian Olympic Fund.

Bannister said his visit to Canada—the first since he won the mile at the British Empire Games in Vancouver two years ago in 3:58.6—is something of a vacation.

Bannister said that since the four-minute mile was beaten, something of a "mood" seized athletes and the time was broken again and again. In England now there are a dozen runners who can better 4:10.

The present 3:58.0 record, held by Australia's John Landy, will be broken, said Bannister, and bits will continue to be clipped off the new marks until eventually there will be a leveling-off place, possibly around 3:50.

Ike Opposes Aid For Lake Fleets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today opposed a Senate-passed bill to provide subsidies for modernizing Great Lakes cargo vessels, many of them 50 years old.

Clarence G. Morse, maritime administrator, testifying for the Maritime Administration and the Commerce Department, said such subsidies would see a precedent for coast wise and intercoastal operators.

He told the House Merchant Marine Committee that the Budget Bureau, which represents the administration's views, is against the measure.

The bill, passed by the Senate by voice vote June 8, would permit Lake operators to build new ships with the help of trade-in allowances from the federal government. This would be equal to the difference of the cost of building one in a foreign country.

Morse said 60 per cent of the 356 Great Lakes bulk cargo carriers will be at least 50 years old by 1960. He said there is need for a modernization program, but he opposed the present proposal. He said studies will be continued on possible means of rehabilitating Great Lakes as well as coastal ships.

British Decide Wightman Cup Belongs To U. S.

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—British tennis staged an autopsy today on America's latest Wightman Cup victory and decided the women's trophy still is as much part of the U. S. scene as the Statue of Liberty.

The American team clinched the trophy Monday—backing its 3-0 lead Friday with two more victories to make the final tally, 5-2. The young British team may well provide America with plenty of opposition next time—particularly from Angela Mortimer, the poker faced English star who downed the U. S. No. 2 player, Shirley Fry.

In singles encounters, the Americans' finer courtcraft and temperament appeared by far the biggest factor in giving them the edge.

Cubs' Minner, Injured While Taking Shower

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Minner, Chicago Cubs southpaw, remained in a hospital for observation today following a fall while taking a shower Monday in his hotel room. The 32-year-old veteran, one of the Cubs' regular starting pitchers, suffered a slight concussion and an injured neck. Manager Stan Hack said Minner would be out "about 10 days or so."

Danger Of U.S. Youth Going To Pot Physically Worries Nation's Leaders

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Is American youth in danger of going to pot physically? If so, what's to be done about it?

These were the two major questions facing the President's Conference on Fitness of American Youth today as it prepared to wind up a two-day session at the Naval Academy.

Many conferees seemed agreed that if youth has not already gone to pot it is in danger of doing so in this age of gadgetry unless something is done to counteract.

What it will be remained to be decided. The best guess among 150 leaders in the fields of sport, education, medicine and other activities seemed to be that whatever the conference decides, it will take a jarring of public opinion to make it work.

This would pave the way for a national program stressing better fitness.

The conference delegates have come up with a variety of proposals in group discussions. Most have dealt with establishing a national council to encourage fitness among youths. Some others have called for teaching physical education and providing more supervised recreation in grade schools.

Some have called for greater expenditure of federal and state funds for health activities. Most have agreed that whatever needs to be done should start on the community level.

Vice President Nixon, who started Monday's session rolling for President Eisenhower, said he did not expect to get a final answer but that if the conference can make a start it will have been worthwhile.

28th Annual Potters' Picnic Expected To Attract 35,000

A crowd of 30,000 to 35,000 is expected at Meyers Lake Park in Canton Saturday for the 28th annual potters picnic.

Pottery workers and their families from ceramic centers all over the eastern United States are expected for the traditional outing.

The first event on the crowded program is scheduled for 11 a.m.—a baby contest in the park ballroom. Termed "Ohio's largest," it generally attracts a field of close to 500.

Youngsters will compete in three age brackets—up to a year, from 1 to 2 and from 2 to 3. The top prize in each division will be a $50 United States savings bond, with a baby set for all other entries.

Immediately afterward, at about 11:45, there will be a penny scramble on the ballroom floor for youngsters in three age groups—5 to 7, 8 to 10, and 11 and 12. The picnic committee will scatter $25 in pennies for the boys and girls to pick up.

At lunch time, the picnic committee will give away free coffee and cream for picnickers. But none will be dispensed into glass containers, the committee said.

All rides throughout the park will be free from 10 a.m. until 12 except for a pony circle, rollercoaster, and tiny motorboats, which the park management leases to private interests. The picnic committee "buys out" the park for the first two hours to get the outing rolling at a fast clip.

The first afternoon attraction will be track and field events at 1 at the park ball field. Cash prizes will be given winners in all events, which include foot races for all age brackets, plus a baseball throwing contest for women, races for local union officers and other special events.

Free dancing will be underway, meanwhile, from 2 to 4:30 in the ballroom. A baseball game for the mythical world's championship of the pottery industry will start at 3. The defending champion is the East Liverpool Merchants, which won in 1955. Leland Quinn, sports committee chairman, said the opposing nine will be named shortly.

A "junior bating beauty" contest is scheduled at 3:15 at Moonlight Gardens, the outdoor dancing pavilion. It is open to youngsters 4 to 7, inclusive, but they must register at the park, the committee said.

The first prize will be a $50 savings bond, with a $25 bond for second place and $10 in saving stamps to the third place winner. All other entries will receive gifts, the committee said.

Mahoning Soil Conservation Air Tour Set For Saturday

The Mahoning County Soil Conservation air tour will be conducted Saturday, beginning at the Austintown Airport, one-half mile south of Austintown on Route 46. The tour will be held the following Saturday in case of rain. The hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The air tour is being sponsored by the Mahoning Soil Conservation District in cooperation with the Mahoning County granges, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, the County Agricultural Extension Service and the Ohio Aviation Board.

Tickets may be obtained from any grange master, supervisor of the soil conservation district, the soil conservation service personnel, or the county extension office.

The primary purpose of the air tour is to create a better understanding of soil, water and woodland problems in Mahoning County. The birds-eye view will show a need for many conservation practices. It will also provide an opportunity to see farms where many practices have been applied as part of a complete farm conservation plan.

The program is under the guidance of a board of supervisors of five county farmers. They are: John A. Cullar, Beaver Twp.; Dean Beardsley, Canfield Twp.; Lloyd Burkhardt, Jackson Twp.; Paul Good, Poland Twp.; H. Guy Brown, Springfield Twp.

Any farmer desiring assistance in any phase of soil conservation should see one of the above men, or the soil conservation service office at 7 W. Main St., Canfield.

The air tour route will include the grassland program, terraces and diversion at the Dean Beardsley farm and tile drainage and sod waterways at the Standard Slag farm, northwest of Canfield; farm pond and sod waterways at the Frank Treffinger farm, west of Canfield.

Large pine planting and a lake will be observed at the Campfire Girls camp south of Ellsworth.

SIX CENTS plus doesn't buy much in the marketplace—but last year that was the average profit per sales dollar of 54 companies who operate in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys—all of them members of the Industrial Information Institute, Inc.

A survey of these 54 companies shows that their combined gross volume of business was almost six billion dollars. (The exact figures are in the table to the left.)

And it shows that of each dollar of this hard-won sales total, the average profit was 6 1/2 cents.

Now what happened to this 6 1/2 cents, on which the security of our jobs rests? Well, 2.8 cents of it was plowed back into the businesses to make their future operations more secure and thus to make our own jobs more secure and also to create new jobs. The remaining 3.7 cents per dollar of sales was divided among the 518,315 stockholders of these companies—the owners of the buildings, facilities, machinery and tools we use.

Please take time to read the table on the left—and to compare the figures for the full eight years shown in the table below.

The Industrial Information Institute, Inc. with member companies in Mahoning, Trumbull, Columbiana and Mercer counties, brings you this unique survey every year as a public information service to all the people of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. This is the eighth annual report.
